

The Advocate

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1947

GRAND OPENING

We are pleased to inform our many friends of a gala event this Friday night. Our friend Joe Fitzpatrick has opened a tavern called the "Hideaway Inn," located at 2075 Basset Ave., Bronx, in the Pelham Bay section. For directions, call him at OL 5-9868. John McVey is also on the job with his pipes. Mr. Fitzpatrick has produced many Irish plays from his own pen, and is a native of the Co. Down. So remember the name—"The Hideaway Inn," opening Friday, Jan. 31.

The Advocate

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1947

Joe Fitzpatrick, who has written at least 50 Irish plays and took part in most of them, is a native of the Co. Down, and is now among the bushes up in Pelham. Our friend Joe has opened a cafe, the "Hideaway Inn," which housed a large crowd, Friday last. John McVey is a partner, and is kept busy as manager . . . When taking

THE ADVOCATE

Saturday, July 30, 1949

McDonald." . . . Our weekend rounds found us at the (Hideaway Inn) where two County Downmen operate, John McVey and Joe P. Fitzpaterick, 2075 Basset, Bronx. We promised Dr. McSparren and Dr. M. Sorley of the Belfast Celtic to make the trip soon. Joe Fitzpatrick is one of our best Irish Play wrights. Here are some of them, Russells, from the "Gods No where," "Proof of love," "Love and Country," "Last glimpse of Erin," "Wedding of Maureen Molloy." . . .

THE ADVOCATE

Saturday, April 21, 1951

NOTICE is hereby given that license 3RL-3633 has been issued to the undersigned to sell Beer, under the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law at 2075 Bassett Ave., County of Bronx, City of New York, for on-premises consumption, John McVey, 2075 Bassett Ave., DBA Hideaway Inn.

THE NEW YORK POST

Thursday, January 20, 1955

NIGHT CLUBS

FITZPATRICK & McVEY'S
HIDEAWAY INN

2075 BASSETT AV. BX
(off. Pelham Pkys.)
OL 5-9868

DINING & DANCING TO ORCH. MUSIC
PRIVATE ROOMS FOR WEDDINGS,
PARTIES—NO MINIMUM OR COVER